Safety Tip	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Safety conversation question for July: What is your role to ensure we're minimizing the risk of injury in your work areas? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✚ To look where you are going ✚ By reporting it ✚ Follow process and procedures- no shortcuts or deviation that increase safety risks.

Waste Management Update	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • These were findings found last week. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Odor eliminating spray (Carrascent) found in regular trash. These bottles, empty or non-empty, should be disposed in black RCRA containers. ➤ Post it note with writing found in regular trash- if you write anything on any piece of paper, it should go in PHI container. ➤ Found email printout in regular trash- all KP documents must be discarded in PHI • Disposing reagents: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Bulk reagent containers like DxH diluent, iQ200 Lamina, etc. need to be emptied in sink, triple wash container then flush with a lot of water. Uncap containers before disposing. ➤ DxC reagent cartridges can be disposed in red biohazard bags, uncapped and turn upside down. Disposing of reagents may change by EH&S. For now, please follow above instructions. Questions, ask manager or local EH&S.
Chemistry	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Many of you had indicated that reagent inventory printing in Chemistry is not helping. This is being discontinued effective today, 7/2/19. Continue to check reagent inventory on the analyzer screen at the beginning and end of your shift and replenish as needed. • Reminder for A shift- Check reagent inventory at least one hour before the end of your shift for DXC 600 and Access 2 analyzers in use. This includes Access Wash Buffer and Substrate. Make sure there is enough reagents to last till the start up of the other analyzer (midnight). Pay close attention to the frequently ordered tests like BUN, CR-S, Troponin. Load reagents if : BUN <40 tests CR-S < 40 tests Troponin < 20 tests ISE Buffer, ISE Ref, CO2 acid- <10% • Reminder for B shift: When performing start up on analyzers in use, make sure to load reagents that will be enough for the day. For instance, replace MC reagents like ISE Buffer, ISE Ref, etc. even still at 15% • Be considerate to your co-workers. Replenish supplies at the end of your shift. This includes sample cups, pipets, etc. Don't forget to roll the paper tape on MedTox and Advantus (UA) analyzers. 	CLS

	Replacement of reagents is dependent on frequency of tests ordered. Make sure to log new lots on new reagent log and perform new lot reagent parallel. This will be closely monitored. This is everyone's responsibility and a team effort. Thank you for your cooperation. Let me know if you have any questions or concerns.
