

Weekly Updates

April 4, 2014

Test	Description of Changes	Affected Individuals
New Student	Kami Southaya will be starting on April 7 th for about 8 weeks.	All Staff
Security/Access Changes	The groundwork for making doors secure in and around the lab has begun. Badge readers are being installed at the Urgent care and medical back door. They are also building a door near Dia's office to 'lock-down' access. Stay tuned... to further changes.	All Staff
Schedule/New Tech	We are planning to have Ashley Gagnelius (former student) train to be our 'relief' tech. She will do about 3 weeks of training in April/May, and then work to fill as needed and for summer vacations. That being said, if you have vacation needs or wants, feel free to let us know and we will plan accordingly. We are also anticipating beginning projects which will take Denelle off the bench (completely??) for a while.	Bench Techs
Internal Pregnancy QC	Clarification: the second internal QC can be left blank as it is not a required response. It only becomes required if the first internal QC was invalid.	Bench Techs
Lab Meeting	Just a reminder that there is a lab meeting on Tuesday April 8 th . We are doing a lab potluck.	All Staff
